The camp shall be located so the drainage from and through the camp will not endanger any domestic or public water supply. All sites shall be graded, ditched, and rendered free from depressions in which water may become a nuisance. [1910.142(a)(1)]
- (b) All sites shall be adequate in size to prevent overcrowding of necessary structures. The principal camp area in which food is prepared and served and where sleeping quarters are located shall be at least 500 feet from any area in which livestock is kept. [1910.142(a)(2)]
- (c) The grounds and open areas surrounding the shelters shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition free from rubbish, debris, wastepaper, garbage, or other refuse. [1910.142(a)(3)]
- (d) Whenever the camp is closed for the season or permanently, all garbage, manure, and other refuse shall be collected and so disposed of as to prevent nuisance. All abandoned privy pits shall be filled with earth and the grounds and buildings left in a clean and sanitary condition. If privy buildings remain, they shall be locked or otherwise secured to prevent entrance. [1910.142(a)(4)] be not less than 27 inches. Triple-deck bunks are prohibited. [1910.142(b)(3)]

- (d) The floors of each shelter shall be constructed of wood, asphalt, or concrete. Wooden floors shall be of smooth and tight construction. The floors shall be kept in good repair. [1910.142(b)(4)]
- (e) All wooden floors shall be elevated not less than 1 foot above the ground level at all points to prevent dampness and to permit free circulation of air beneath. [1910.142(b)(5)]
- (f) Nothing in this rule shall be construed to prohibit "banking" with earth or other suitable material around the outside walls in areas subject to extreme low temperatures. [1910.142(b)(6)]
- (g) All living quarters shall be provided with windows the total of which shall not be less than one-tenth of the floor area. At least one-half of each window shall be so constructed that it can be opened for purposes of ventilation. [1910.142(b)(7)]

- (k) All heating, cooking, and water-heating equipment shall be installed in accordance with State and local ordinances, codes, and regulations governing such installations. If a camp is used during cold weather, adequate heating equipment shall be provided. [1910.142(b)(11)]
